The 3rd American Association for Wind Engineering Workshop is the third in a series of workshops held every 18 months by the American Association for Wind Engineering (http://www.aawe.org). This event will be held in the Resort and Conference Center at Hyannis (Cape Cod), Massachusetts on August 12th – 14th, 2012.

The workshop will begin on Sunday, August 12th with an ice-breaker event, held in the evening. A full day of presentations will follow on August 13th. The official dinner will be held at 6pm on August 13th. The event will end in the afternoon (say 3 pm) of Tuesday, August 14th.

The Resort and Conference Center at Hyannis (http://www.capecodresortandconference.com/) has 232 luxurious guestrooms and suites, an 18-hole par 3 golf course, outdoor and indoor pools, a full-service destination spa and state-of-the-art conference facility.

The resort is at a very short distance from the Kennedy Compound, Kennedy Museum and the historic waterfront district. Also, it is just steps away from Main street shops, boutiques and restaurants. Some of Cape Cod’s finest beaches are situated only minutes from the resort. The resort is centrally located and only 90 minutes from Boston’s Logan International Airport.

CALL for ABSTRACTS

The AAWE2012 workshop is an excellent opportunity for interaction between engineers, students, scientists, architects, planners and practitioners in the various fields of wind engineering and related disciplines. Members and non-members of the AAWE are welcome to attend and/or present at the Workshop. A detailed list of topics may be found on the workshop website.

Students should use this informal setting to present their research and receive feedback from attendees.

Those interested in presenting at AAWE2012 are invited to submit an abstract of 150 words to one page (by July 6th). Submission of a short paper (6 to 8 pages) due July 23rd is highly encouraged, especially for students. For on-line abstract/paper submission and file templates please refer to:
